

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

A method of representing a net includes steps of: (a) receiving as input vertices of a net in an integrated circuit die; (b) calculating rounded coordinates having a selected resolution for each of the vertices; (c) calculating rounded coordinates having the selected resolution along the net between each of the vertices; and (d) generating as output the rounded coordinates to represent the net.